Excerpt: . . . and renew his courage of outlook for this country. OST satisfactory to all interested in the solution of labor troubles must be the termination of the great strike at Lord Penrhyns quarries in Wales. The strike was notable for the degree of public sympathy shown toward the strikers, and for his lordships entire refusal to admit the propriety of any outside interference in the matter, not only by representatives of the workingmen, but by the Board of Trade. The result is an unmitigated success for the employes from every point of view. Lord Penrhyn concedes the right of the men in all controversies to be represented by commissioners of their own choosing, and the public interest in the case has compelled him to recognize the interest of the public in enforcing a settlement of a strike which threatens the public peace as well...

Reviews

This publication may be really worth a go through, and a lot better than other. It really is written in simple terms and never difficult to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
